The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Strike Controls Eyed

Few people would disagree with the idea that the U.S. postal system is a mess.

The postal carriers' strike will probably do more to get it straightened out than all the postmasters' generals in history.

It may also encourage congress to take a new look at what's been happening in this strike-and-riot torn nation.

The municipal employees strike in Cincinnati, for example, permitted raw sewage to pour into the Ohio River after sanitation workers refused to cross picket lines.

People in Louisville, and points between there and Cincinnati were recipients of untreated body waste of their up-river neighbors in their drinking water.

It was a repulsive condition. Health and welfare of thousands of U.S. humans was jeopardized on the order of Cincinnati municipal workers union officials.

The mail strike is not a health matter. But it disrupts an arm of the federal government that is vital to nearly every American. Because the effect is so universal, it will create a positive opinion on public service strikes in the minds of nearly everyone. It may be the vehicle on which the power of unions will begin a downhill slide.

There should be no excuse for strikes among vital public service operations. A nation capable of creating atomic fission should be able to develop machinery for arbitrating differences. Such machinery should obviously include all municipal workers such as police, firemen, sanitation workers and court personnel. In areas where such strikes are illegal, the law should be enforced — beginning with the union president who should assume strike responsibility.

It should include all those whose services are paid for from public funds.

It should include those employed by firms using the public's property. Those would include railroads whose tracks are on federal land-grant property, air transport people because their end product is through the skies belonging to every citizen, and to seafarers, particularly longshoremen, who depend on public waterways for their existence.

There is a growing belief that somewhere along the line democracy will be shelved temporarily so that strikes, and other malfunctions of the nation, can be gotten back into focus. Some leaders have expressed belief that a "temporary dictatorship" is the solution.

One spokesman said publicly the other day that such a dictatorship already exists.

"It is the union boss," he said.

'It Was Lovely'

Just to bring the "rock" fad into focus we report from the U.S. Press Association coverage of the recent Tracy, California rock festival which, from a population point of view, came out even.

Four babies were born and four "music lovers" died during the week end festival.

You can't make any function come out more even than that.

That some of the babies may have come from unmarried couples and some of the deaths should not have happened at all, does not change the fact that the Tracy rock festival was described as a complete success by its promoters.

After all, there were some 300,000 youngsters who attended the event. That's a huge segment of the generation which will set the standards for this bastion of democracy and the free enterprise system during the next generation. To have broken even is no small miracle.

Overlooked by those who would not been too critical of the "rock" generation is the fact that doctors treated hundreds of youngsters for bad drug trips; hundreds got drunk or high on wine and drugs; males and females danced nude in front of the stage; five men were brutally clubbed by members of a motorcycle gang, and one had suffered a broken pelvis after a 40-foot drop from a freeway overpass. The latter victim didn't fall — he jumped under the influence of drugs.

Tons of debris were left behind; scores of cars were abandoned, and the performers had to stop their act because of the frequent outbreak of fights in front of the stage.

One of the four dead was stabbed in the back and face, directly in front of the bandstand in broad daylight.

Witness of that tragedy could not or would not identify the assailants.

Why go to the "pigs"?

"Everyone knows" that police are the gestapo of the establishment.

But apologists for the festival say that a majority of the 300,000 youngsters at the affair were not out for violence.

"It was supposed to be lovely" mourned the leader of one of the rock groups at the festival.

But something went wrong.

Perhaps what went wrong at Tracy is the same thing that went wrong in the case of Walter Vandermeer in New York City earlier.

Walter was an alcoholic at the age of 10 and a heroin addict at the age of 11.

Walter is dead from an overdose of drugs at the age of 12.

What causes such tragedies?

Self indulgence.

Permissive parents.

Too much money.

And too much freedom for kids who simply are not equipped to face a perilous world fraught with danger for the unwary.

Janet Lynn Isley Crowned Miss SV

Janet Lynn Isley, 18, is this year's Miss Spring Valley.

She was chosen and crowned March 18 in the pageant at Monte Vista High School. She was picked from among a dozen contestants.

Marta Camacho was first runner-up and Carrie Lynn Barrett was second runner-up.

She will be one of 26 finalists vying for $2,500 in prizes and the honor of reigning over the 81st Southern California Exposition.

Provinzano In Rescue Of Motorist

A former Lemon Grove man, Vince Provinzano, participated in the rescue of a 74-year-old La Mesa man who was trapped in an overturned car for a week halfway down a 300-foot cliff on Torrey Pines grade.

Provinzano, now a fireman with the Del Mar Fire Department, is the son of Vince Provinzano, operator of the Italian delicatessen at 7860 Broadway.

The injured man, Andrew Strub was taken to Scripps hospital and is recuperating.

Strub left La Mesa, March 8 to visit his niece in Garden Grove. He was found, still conscious, the following Saturday by youthful sightseers.

Provinzano, one of the first on the scene, told reporters that Strub was wedged beneath the dashboard of his upside-down rear-engine auto. The man had a week's growth of beard and he was covered with ants. He was able to move only one arm.

Strub was conscious and lucid, according to Provinzano, except that he thought he had been trapped three weeks instead of one.

HONOR — Major General John F. Franklin, Deputy Commanding General Sixth United States Army presented outstanding ROTC recruiting plaque awarded to Mount Miguel High School. Receiving the award are Lieutenant Colonel Donald Grey, the director of Miguel's ROTC program, and Mr. Melvin Grant, principal.

Sixth Army Award Goes to Mt. Miguel

Major General John F. Franklin, Jr., Deputy Commanding General Sixth United States Army, paid an official visit to Mount Miguel High School, recently.

The Mount Miguel Reserve Officer Training Corps, commanded by Cadet Captain, Larry Formanek, honored General Franklin with a formal honor guard ceremony on the school's athletic field.

The purpose of the general's visit was to present Mount Miguel with the Commanding General's Annual Award for Outstanding Achievement in Recruiting and Accelerated promotion of ROTC.

Only one high school in the entire Sixth Army area receives the coveted award, the Sixth Army area including eight western states.

The award recognizes the support given to the ROTC program by the Grossmont Union High School District and the dedication to expanding and furthering the program which has been constantly demonstrated by Lieutenant Colonel Donald Grey, the program's director.

General Franklin also presented the Meritorious Service Medal to Master Sergeant Geoffrey Adams, presently an ROTC instructor at Mount Miguel.

Master Sergeant Adams said that the award symbolizes the dedication to duty and military professionalism which constantly characterized the attitude of the men who were placed under his supervision during his Army service.

Master Sergeant Adams was cited by the President of the United States for distinguishing himself by exceptionally meritorious performance of services to the United States Army.

"The men's efforts and support contributed immeasurably to attaining the achievement for which I was cited," commented Sergeant Adams.

LG Board Wants Unification Study

Unification came up during the Lemon Grove School Board meeting Monday night, but Trustees, who've been through it all before, had a "wait and see" attitude.

Board members discussed the possibilities — confronting the issue: unification of the Grossmont High School District with the elementary districts.

The question is, should the high school district remain one huge district, or be broken into smaller components.

One board member remarked that the maximum size of an efficient district should be around 50,000 students, while the Grossmont district already includes nearly 60,000 pupils and is projected in 10 years to reach 75,000.

An election on the issue is mandatory within two years, and the feeling is to schedule it before then, according to superintendent Byron Netzel. When put to the voters as a one-district plan, the measure failed.

The board members felt that a study should be recommended since the election was in the offing, but took no formal action.

Mass.-Miguel Intersection Lights OK'd

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Traffic lights will be installed at Massachusetts and San Miguel avenues by Wilcox Electric whose bid of $10,994 got the job.

The county will furnish the controller at a cost of $8,570.

Massachusetts is carrying 13,000 cars a day; San Miguel, 4,000.

17 accidents including 7 injuries, one a pedestrian, have been logged at the intersection during the past three years.

Rings Are Stolen

A pair of semi-precious stone rings were stolen from the residence of M. Frank Hamilton, 10170 Del Rio in Casa de Oro between March 11 and March 13.

Two Presences Topic At Church of Christ

"The Two Presences", sermon topic of the Rev. Ernest M. Fowler at the Lemon Grove United Church of Christ, Congregational, will set the theme for Easter services of worship at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

Breakfast by the young people of the church will also provide a hospitable note at the church which is located at 2770 Glebe rd.

The Chancel Choir, singing under the direction of Lois Utterback, has chosen to open the service with "Let Thy Holy Presence" of Tschesnekoff and an anthem "Kyrie" from the Lord Nelson Mass by Haydn.

The latter will have violin accompaniment by Mari Fowler and Barbara Bell. Frank Kueter will be at the organ for both services.

The church on Glebe road, while worshipping in one of Lemon Grove's most recent structures, is the oldest church organization in the community. It is liberal in tradition and warmly human in its shared faith.

Further celebration of Holy Week will take place Thursday evening at 7:30 when a candle light service of Holy Communion will mark the last supper Christ ate with his disciples.

Why Not Traffic Light, Reader Asks

Dear Editor,

We live near the intersection of Massachusetts and San Miguel and if ever, there was a need for a traffic light anywhere, this is one of the most dangerous ones I can think of.

I seldom go down San Miguel that I don't worry over someone hitting my car, or a child from the San Miguel Elementary School getting hit by a car.

I've seen cars swerve into the other lane to keep from hitting children walking along the roadway.

If we keep paying taxes as high as we do here in Lemon Grove why don't we get something for our share?

I read about a year ago in our paper we were to receive traffic lights on that intersection, also at Grove and Broadway and on Sweetwater road near Mt. Miguel High School.

What happened, did we get the wrong man in office, Mr. Harry Scheide? If so, that can be remedied by voters.

Mrs. Barbara Krell

E.C. Jaycees To Help Buy Rubella Vaccine

The El Cajon Jaycees and the San Diego County Chapter of the March of Dimes have formed an alliance that is expected to raise more than $8,000 to help purchase rubella vaccine for El Cajon children.

A group of volunteers for the March of Dimes will launch a telephone campaign April 1 to sell tickets at a reduced rate for the 18th Annual Eastern San Diego County Fair, scheduled May 27 through 31 at Gillespie Field in El Cajon.

The fair is sponsored annually by the Jaycees and is designed to provide wholesome activities for youth as well as entertainment for the entire family. It is a non-profit venture with all proceeds returning to the community in the form of Jaycee-sponsored events and the presentation of each year's fair.

According to Lou Watts, pre-fair ticket sales chairman, all money raised by the March of Dimes will be divided equally with the Jaycees.

It will be used by the March of Dimes to purchase measles vaccine and by the Jaycees to present the fair.

This year's fair, which celebrates the 50th anniversary of the United States Jaycees, is expected to attract 150,000 visitors, 29,000 more than last year's record 121,000.

Permanent Hike Grounds Sought

The Spring Valley Kiwanis Club held its weekly breakfast-meeting March 18 at Golden Bowl. It was an "inter-club" meeting with the La Mesa Club.

Spring Valley president Roy Williams, announced an area-wide meeting April 2 at 7:30 p.m. at Mt. Helix High School, for the purpose of discussing Community Planning.

Stewart Taylor, project chairman and finance chairman of the proposed "Valley-Grove" YMCA, introduced Ron Wise of Heartland YMCA. Wise said the local committee has a need for reforming and that there is a great need for the communities to back the new (proposed) YMCA.

He pointed out the Heartland YMCA as having three new youth programs into effect: 1—A nursery school for children, 3 to 5 years of age; 2—Horsemanship for the handicapped; and 3—The "Youth Lifeline" to help youngsters in dire need; a program which has excellent work, particularly by telephone and has been active for the past 9 months. He said a new office is scheduled to open April 1 in La Mesa.

Brad Underwood, a teacher at Mt. Miguel High School, spoke and showed movies of the school program to help 9th grade boys, who have "attitude" problems.

Underwood's talk (and the pictures) pointed out that several of the boys were taken on extreme hikes in Carrizo Gorge (in Eastern San Diego County); a dry, "wilderness-type" area.

They were put to the test of roughing it on their own for several hours, far from stores and life's necessities. They were taught to live off the land as our ancestors did.

Teacher Underwood said several of the boys were "positive" they would be unable to withstand the ordeal, but before the time was over, all had come through in fine condition. Several indicated they would like to try it again.

Underwood said however, that it would be much better if students of the 8th grade would begin this "rough" training, as, by the time a boy is a 9th grader, his mind is set in many ways.

He said also, there is a need for the County, along with the Boy Scout movement, to purchase the Carrizo Gorge area, before it is torn up and developed.

He said there has been Federal Funds to help in these hiking programs, but these Funds, he understands, will be eliminated next year. He stressed that a permanent area is sorely needed.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Recently while travelling in Baja California we drove into a gasoline station where I was unable to explain to the attendant that the starter on my car was failing.

This experience brought to my mind the great need to know more Spanish phrases, especially the ones that relate to the working parts of an automobile. Please present some phrases that identify automobile parts in Spanish and, in particular, a sentence equivalent to "The starter doesn't work."

Sorry to hear of your mishap. "El arranque" means "the starter." The expression you could have used was "El arranque no trabaja." (The starter does not work.)

The names of some automobile parts look like their English counterparts as in "motor" (motor), "radiador" (radiator) and "cable" (cable). Others are not as easy to determine as in the case of "el engranaje" (gears), "el volante" (the steering wheel), "el deposito" (gas tank), "la rueda" (the wheel) and "el capo" (the hood). These are just a few.

An interesting one is "un gato," which looks like it should mean "a cat" (it actually does in general conversation). In automobile terms though it means "a jack."

Practice phrases for today reflect names of automobile parts. See if you can learn them in short order with the aid of the recorded voice which says them automatically for you when you dial 276-2762.

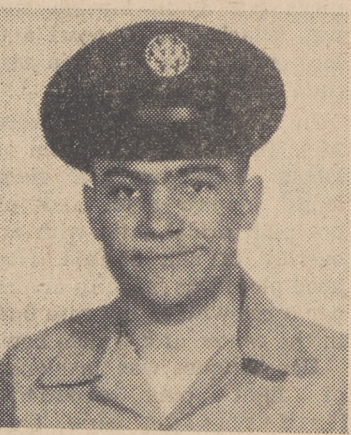

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Funciona el arranque?" (foon-see-oh-nah ehl ah-RAHN-keh)

The owners dog will then be registered with the National Pet Registration Center, Inc., in Gillette, New Jersey where a permanent record will be kept in case the animal is ever lost or stolen.

This makes it easier for the National Pet Registration to reunite the animal with its owner, at no cost to the finder.

All laboratories that buy animals for experimental purposes are aware of this process and will not use an animal that is tattooed in this manner, but will contact the National Pet Registration Center.

The fee for lifetime registration of the owner's social security number is $10, regardless of how many dogs he has. The fee for application of the Perma Marc tattoo is $5 per animal. Thus it would cost $15 to register and tattoo one animal; $20 for two; $25 for three, etc.

The purpose for holding this clinic is not only to have as many dogs in the San Diego area tattooed as possible but also to orient all residents in San Diego County to check any animal they find for such a tattoo number so that it may be returned to its rightful owner.

Week For Seniors At Mount Miguel

Girl and boy slave days, Administration Day, a class picnic, Dress-up Day, a Denny's Breakfast, and a Talent Spectacular: these are all the activities of Mount Miguel's Senior Week, March 30 through April 3.

Slavery is brought back to life on Mount Miguel's campus, Monday, when female slaves will be sold for use on the following day. But the girls get their revenge Tuesday when the boys will be auctioned off to the highest bidder for use Wednesday. Such degrading tasks as opening doors and carrying books will be the jobs of the slaves.

Senior Administration Day will also be held Tuesday, March 31. This is the day when any senior will have a chance to conduct a class, in accordance to the teacher's desires.

Each teacher must be notified by March 20 by the student who wants to take over the class. Administration Day is left up to the teacher's discretion, whether a student may or may not teach his class.

For all those outdoors-lovers, the Senior Picnic will be held at Big Oak Ranch on April Fools' Day. The Ranch includes a swimming pool, an old western spook town, game areas, and a dance hall. There will be something to interest everyone.

Those students who ride the buses to the picnic will be excused from their fifth and sixth period classes. The cost is $1.00 for seniors with a Senior Discount Card and $1.50 without. For seniors who arrive after school the price will be $1.25 and all underclassmen must pay $1.50. Buses will leave at approximately 1:00 and return at 6:30 p.m.

Seniors will be asked to wear their "Sunday Best" on Dress-up Day, Thursday, April 2.

The last day of Senior Week will start off with a Senior breakfast at Denny's Coffee Shop in Lemon Grove, 6:30-8 a.m. Seniors are given one half hour to return to school and they must be in their seats by 8:30 sharp, or be counted tardy.

As a finale to a very active Senior Week, Mount Miguel's Class of 1970 will present The Senior Talent Spectacular April 3, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the gym.

Dr. Neil Barton will put his special talents to work on a few Mount Miguel students for one hour as a featured act at the Talent Spectacular.

The show is being organized by Don Carlson, senior class president, and Counselor Robert Sanders. Senior Discount Card holders will be charged $1.00 admission. Everyone else will be charged $1.50.

Grossmont Teams With USN Hospital

A major breakthrough in Navy-civilian education was achieved during a meeting when representatives of the Balboa Naval Hospital, Grossmont College, San Diego State College and the San Diego and Imperial Counties Health Science Education Council agreed in principle, on the implementation of a joint educational program leading to an associate degree for the most critical health care occupations.

Under the proposal, the Naval Hospital would provide laboratory and hands — on experience for Grossmont College students as well as Naval personnel enrolled in the health care program.

Grossmont College would provide instruction in general education courses required for an associate degree for both Naval personnel and civilian students.

According to C. Allen Paul, dean of Technical Vocational Education at Grossmont College, the reciprocal arrangement between the Naval Hospital and Grossmont College, under the leadership of the Health Science Educational Council of San Diego and Imperial Counties, will serve as a model for the nation.

Heartland Y Has Program

The Heartland YMCA volunteer staff working with the Saturday Adventure Club, a Saturday morning program for first through sixth grades, enthusiastically agree that the first session was a success.

They are all set to do it again from April 4 to May 23. Activities include trips to the ocean, military installations, and parks; games, creative crafts, sports and movies.

Youngsters are afforded good opportunities to participate because of the high counselor-child ratio and the small groups in which youngsters move from one activity to another.

This eight week Saturday morning program costs only $8 per youngster. Pre-registration with the fee is required. With the high rate of returning youngsters expected, the Heartland YMCA urges those interested to contact the Y right away.

Those who are interested in giving youngsters of this age group a chance for a rich and rewarding worthwhile experience on Saturday mornings should call the Heartland YMCA at 466-4161 for information about the program.

Pants Workshop Set

A new clothing class, Pants Workshop, will open April 17 at Hoover-Crawford Adult School. The class meets each Friday evening from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Hoover High School, 4474 El Cajon Blvd.

Students will learn to fit, alter and construct a basic pattern for women's pants in the course. From the basic pattern they will learn to make culottes, hostess pants, bermudas, bell bottoms, straight leg or tapered pants, pant dresses, and knit pants.

For more information please call 282-7683 or 583-3737.

Benefit Set

An open house program will be held two days at the Bowlero April 2 and 3, to benefit the Junior Bowling Program. The first day will be 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6 to 10 p.m. Second day is scheduled 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 6 to 10 p.m.

The money goes for the state tournament.

More Sports Del Mar Horse Show Nation's Biggest

DEL MAR — The national horse show held annually at the Southern California Exposition in Del Mar will be just what it has been for years — the nation's largest and one of the best.

The horse show, which runs concurrently with the Exposition June 24 through July 5, will not be affected by a recent decision to disaffiliate from the American Horse Show Association, said Eric Atterbury, manager of the Del Mar show.

Directors of the 22nd District Agricultural Association, who govern the Exposition, voted to drop membership in the American Horse Show Association after hearing a report from their fair officials that new rules adopted by the association would hinder the horse show here.

"The national horse show in Del Mar, which is the largest in the United States, will be the same show with the same classes of competition, that we have been operating during the 12 years I have been here," Atterbury said.

Atterbury explained that new rules adopted by the horse show association limit shows licensed by the organization to a 15-hour period daily, including breaks for meals, under penalty of fines for violations.

"Southern California Exposition horse shows never exceeded the former hourly limit of 16 hours, but the new rules would have resulted in restricting the number of entries, or classes of competition, or both," Atterbury said.

Atterbury said he expects a five to ten percent increase in the number of horses entered this year because some exhibitors have not entered in past years due to the restrictions imposed by the national organization.

"We will have about 2,000 horses entered this year in 191 classes in both the junior and open shows," Atterbury said.

Last year the Exposition horse show attracted 1,888 horse entries.

"Membership in the American Horse Show Association means nothing as far as being in us any more entries or any more prestige," Atterbury said.

"There are 2,800 free seats available to Exposition visitors, or reserved seat tickets can be purchased for $1 each for each performance. In addition 88 box seats will be sold for $150 for ten seats for all 12 days, $125 for eight seats, $100 for six, and $75 for four.

Atterbury said all box seats sold out for last year's horse show.

More Hockey Teams Sign For National Olympics

SAN DIEGO — More entries have been received for the 30th Annual National Junior Olympic Hockey Tournament, to be held on April 3-5 at the Sports Arena. Three new teams have entered to bring the total to seven, just one short of the eight needed.

The three new ones are, the Spokane Junior B Team from Spokane, the New York Green Leafs, who are the Metropolitan Association Champs, and the Toledo Blades who won the International League Championship.

Along with the new ones are the host team, from San Diego, Crosthwaite Juniors, the Olympia Agencies team from Grosse Pointe, Michigan, on which are two sons of Gordie Howe (Mark and Marty), the California Champs from Pasadena/Burbank and the team from Minnesota.

SD Relays Feature Prep, Open Talent

Saturday will see one of the finest track and field meets in the nation in Balboa Stadium.

The relays will have appeal to all since it is actually three meets in one, a high school meet, a junior college meet and a university open meet.

The events will get underway at 10 Saturday morning and will last all day. At 12:30 there will be official opening ceremonies with the United States Marine Corps Recruit Depot providing the official units.

Dr. Tony Succi, track and cross country coach at San Diego State College, is meet director and has been running the midnight oil to line up talent for the Relays.

In past years the meet, known as the Easter Relays, was primarily a high school and junior college meet with from one to three university open division events. This year the university open division has been expanded to a full field of events with many big names indicating an intent to compete.

Still, for many people in the area, the main interest in this meet will revolve around the high school events.

Outstanding local entries should come from Mount Miguel's Billy Joe Winchester, shotputter and discus thrower; Helix distance runner Ed Mendoza; Helix vaulter Rick Schultz and Helix hurdler Art Evans.

CHUCKIN' SPORTS

Major Track Arrives In Stadium Saturday

By Chuck Curtis

The big day arrives Saturday in Balboa Stadium.

The occasion is the 11th Annual San Diego Relays.

Top track and field competitors from all over the nation and some from foreign shores will be competing on the lightning fast Grastex track in Balboa Stadium.

The San Diego Relays offer something for every track fan. For those who are fans of high school track there will be over thirty high schools from all over Southern California competing in the day-long meet. Top teams from throughout the Los Angeles area, Long Beach, Orange, Imperial and Glendale will be facing the cream of San Diego area high school talent.

A great deal of interest will be centered on the speed merchants from Dorsey High of Los Angeles against the formidable Lincoln High sprinters.

For track fans interested in junior college competition there will be a full roster of events featuring top junior college talent from all over the area.

One of the top threats in the junior college ranks will come from Mesa College, long known for its fine track teams. Recently Mesa defeated the San Diego Track Club in a meet at the college.

For fans attracted by the top university and open talent, this year will mark the first season there will be a full list of University-Open Division track and field events.

In past years the San Diego Relays had only two or three events in this division.

The University-Open Division has already attracted many top entries. In fact, the overseas entry mentioned is Rex Maddaford, New Zealand's fine distance runner. Maddaford has indicated he intends to take part in the meet.

Another name attracting nationwide interest is Neal Steinhauer, record holding shot putter. Neal holds the worlds indoor record with a toss of 68' 7".

He will be facing such talent as Bruce Wilhelm, Athens A.C., Oakland, who has a toss of 64' 8".

Steinhauer, formerly competing for the US Army, is now with the Oregon Track Club.

Other top competitors in the San Diego Relays Shot Put will include Dave Price, San Diego Track Club, with a put of 62'; Bill Hannafield, Pacific Coast Club, 60' 4 1/2"; Gary Ordway, Pacific Coast Club and Ray Hiscock, San Diego Track Club, each with puts of 59'.

Advance sale of tickets has been beyond expectations and indicates a fine turnout will be on hand Saturday, 10 a.m., when the first of the 69 events scheduled gets underway.

Barnum and Bailey's famed three ring circus will have nothing on Balboa Stadium for continued action throughout the day.

At 12:30 there will be official opening ceremonies with units from the United States Marine Corps Recruit Depot taking part.

The 69th and final event is scheduled to be run at 5:25 p.m. See you in Balboa Stadium Saturday.

Gulls Host Spurs At Arena Tonight

The San Diego Gulls, closing in on a third place finish in the Western Hockey League race, face a busy weekend of activity starting tonight when they host the Denver Spurs at the Sports Arena in an 8 o'clock game.

Following tonight's game, the Gulls travel to Phoenix on Saturday night, then play a return match against the Roadrunners at the Sports Arena at 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

Tonight's game will be a very special evening for Gull fans. It's Sky Hawk Night, Picture Night and also the Gulls' fourth free March Skating Party.

Each fan attending the game tonight will receive a free full-color picture of the 1969-70 San Diego Gulls.

The Gulls have also chosen tonight to honor the San Diego Sky Hawks, who originally brought hockey to San Diego in the 1940's. Many of these hockey pioneers have remained in the San Diego area and they will be introduced and honored at the game.

Following the game, the ice will be opened for an hour's free public skating. The skating parties will take place at tonight's game and also Sunday evening's game.

Tonight's game will wrap up the seasonal series with the Spurs. The Gulls have already clinched the series with a 6-3-2 advantage through the first 11 games.

The Gulls and Phoenix have played nine times this season, and San Diego holds a 5-3-2 edge in that series. The Roadrunners are fighting hard for the fourth and final playoff spot, and they play three key games against the Gulls — the two this weekend and the season finale on Saturday, April 4.

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, founded at Illinois Wesleyan University in 1899, is the largest fraternity in the world with 17,500 student members in more than 289 campus chapters, 11 in California.

Helix Looks Like Best Track Team

The Helix-Mount Miguel track meet Friday afternoon was billed as a showdown between the two top contenders for the Grossmont league title.

The Highlanders won the meet, 77-59, and demonstrated depth and power that might make them the top dual meet team in the county.

John Landis and Art Evins were double winners for the Scots, who cornered 11 firsts in the meet, compared to Miguel's 5.

The best performance of the meet, however, was Billy Joe Winchester's double in the weight events.

The Matador musclemen, in a losing cause, recorded a pair of outstanding marks in winning both events.

His 61-8½ in the shot, recorded on his last throw, was his best of the year and was a remarkable effort for an athlete who's only been on the track team three weeks.

The throw indicated that Billy Joe, a 62-footer last year, is in for a fine spring. He also recorded 158-7½ in the discus, below his bests for the year (163-6) and all-time (180 feet).

Landis clipped off a 10.2 century and a 22.5 22 in a mild upset of John Hook in the sprints. Hook had looked stronger in early season races.

Evins had little trouble winning the hurdles race, clocking 14.8 and 20.0, both seasonal bests for him. The 14.8 was the year's best in San Diego county and one-tenth off his best-ever, while the 20.0 flat was his lifetime best.

The Scots also got big efforts from Ed Mendoza, Dean Jacobs and Steve Fattig.

Mendoza, the area's best long distance runner, fought the wind and had little competition on the way to a 4:24 mile.

It was his best open effort, but he's done 4:18 during a relay.

Jacobs, nursing a tender ankle, didn't run the highs or compete in the triple jump, but still won his specialty, the long jump, with 21-½. He was also third in the low hurdles.

Fattig was first in the wide-open triple-jump, hepping 42-2½.

Miguel received good efforts from Rex Lowery and Joe Stubbs.

Lowery, with torn ligaments in his takeoff foot, still managed to negotiate a 13-foot vault, upsetting county leader Rick Schultz in the process.

Schultz also cleared 13-feet, but was behind on misses. He couldn't clear 13-6, his best, fighting a difficult wind.

Stubbs, a sophomore, won the two-mile in an upset with 9:57. Helix' Rick Schultz and Matador Gary Heiserman had figured to duel at the distance.

Monte Vista, meanwhile, was showing unexpected power by throttling Grossmont, 77-58.

Sports Beat

FACE FAMILIAR? — It should be — it's Mount Miguel's Billy Joe Winchester, the best athlete in the area, along with Helix' Bill Walton. Winchester, the Matadors' weight thrower was making more sports headlines Friday in the Helix dual meet, throwing the shot 61-8½. The effort was far and away the best throw by an area prep this year.

Hitch Joins Race For Recorder

San Diego Deputy Mayor Allen Hitch has announced his candidacy for the office of County Recorder in the June primary election.

He was re-elected for a third term to the San Diego City Council unopposed in 1969.

Hitch cited his long experience with activities connected with planning, budgeting, engineering and data processing at City government level as being a great value in management of the County Recorder's office.

His nine years of Council tenure, he said, would be of great value in management of the County Recorder's office, and that he would utilize the most modern administrative techniques.

"The County Recorder's office is not well understood by many people but is a highly important one that can significantly influence and accelerate the development of San Diego County."

"The Recorder's office needs to respond more quickly and efficiently to citizen requirements. We can ill afford the office to become a bureaucratic, functional cubbyhole when the demands of the times are for enlightened, responsive administration."

"I will bring the County Recorder's post my knowledge of government, business and economics. I will work hard as County Recorder to provide higher standards of service and efficiency for our people," Hitch said.

Hitch was a San Diego businessman from 1935 to 1961. He was San Diego County supervisor for Watkins Products from 1935 to 1952, when he became owner of Gerard's Home Furnishings in San Diego. He sold Gerard's in 1958 when he opened Allen's House of Carpets. He left business in 1961 when he was elected to the San Diego City Council.

Van Deerlin To Seek Fifth Term in Congress

WASHINGTON — Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, announced he was seeking a fifth term in Congress.

Van Deerlin, a former newspaperman, represents the 37th Congressional District. It covers the southern half of the City of San Diego; the communities of Chula Vista, National City, Imperial Beach, San Ysidro, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley, part of La Mesa and the easternmost portion of San Diego County.

During his more than seven years in the House, Van Deer-lin has concentrated on projects and legislation for improving the economic condition of his district.

He was an early backer of the Sweetwater and Tia Juana River flood control projects, the dredging of South San Diego Bay for deep-water shipping and the proposed opening of a second entrance to the harbor — undertakings which have all moved forward during his tenure in office.

Drug and crime control are among the Congressman's other major concerns. He has introduced bills to limit the export of dangerous pills that can be returned illegally to this country, and to assist federal authorities in the identification of contraband tablets and capsules.

Van Deerlin has been a strong supporter of education programs, including impact aid. "While I can appreciate the President's efforts to cut unnecessary frills," he said, "San Diego County's $15 million impact entitlement is fully justified, and I will continue to oppose any cutbacks in our allotment."

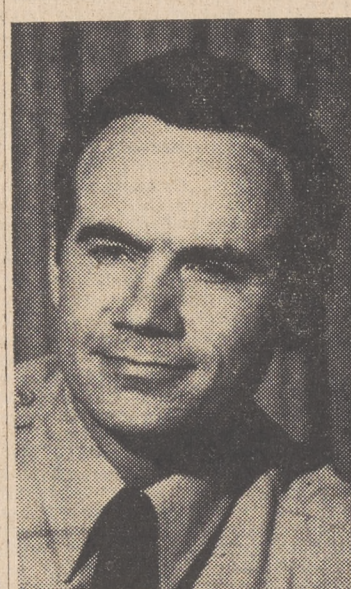

In his last re-election bid in 1968, Van Deerlin won by 43,583 votes, the widest margin of his career.

He currently ranks eighth in seniority among the 20 majority members of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. He is the ranking Democrat on the Subcommittee on Communications and Power, and also serves on a Subcommittee on Investigations.

Elden Carl Joins Race For Sheriff

The man who believes law enforcement should be brought closer to the people, especially the youth, has announced his candidacy for sheriff of San Diego County.

Elden Carl, 35, a member of the Sheriff's Department for seven years and in law enforcement for 11 years, is now Director of Community Relations for the Sheriff's office.

ELDEN CARL

He is best known for his programs for youth.

He has long advocated a program to bring young people, starting with the elementary school grades, in direct contact with uniformed officers and understanding.

Carl has exemplified this program by his hundreds of appearances at schools, civic meetings, public rallies with expert pistol and gun demonstrations.

He has earned the title "The Straight Shooter" for his expertise on gun safety and fire arms demonstrations as well as his honest answers to the students of San Diego County.

He created and implemented the present sheriff's firearms program and volunteers his spare time to teach home safety and crime prevention techniques.

He also has inaugurated classes for women upon request from various women's organizations.

Carl joined the El Cajon Police Department in 1959, served in the military during the Korean Conflict, attended San Diego State College, is accredited to teach Police Science, and has served in communications, records, training, patrol and community relations in the Sheriff's Department since 1963. His awards include honor man in the police academy.

Price Lauds L.M. Police

Every community in San Diego County should form a group like La Mesa's Heartland Youth for Decency, Frank L. Price, former FBI executive and candidate for sheriff, told the La Mesa Lions Club Tuesday.

He commended the La Mesa Police Department and Mayor Ray Fellows, for the results being obtained by local youth in support of law enforcement.

All citizens should adopt the principle, "We appreciate our law enforcement officials for their efforts to protect our individual rights," which is supported by the local patriotic youth group, Price said.
